

Contact:

Caroline Wilkes
516.623-3490
caroline@architectsloft.com

Introducing... architect's LOFT

the Newest Concept in Consolidating Start-to-Finish Services for Residential and Commercial Design

Glen Head, N.Y. December 3, 2007 – Just thinking about a building or remodeling project can stress out property owners, let alone having to find, hire and manage the various professionals whose services are needed throughout the entire, arduous process.

Enter architect's LOFT, a welcoming, one-stop shop for architectural services, interior design expertise and construction management that will remain involved in a project until it has reached a successful state of completion.

Re-introducing his design firm as architect's LOFT, founder Paul Pellicani, R.A., A.I.A. created this unique concept to bring together under one roof a top-notch team of experienced professionals capable of seeing a project through from concept to completion. This collaborative approach not only helps a project run considerably smoother, it brings fresh, innovative ideas and practices – including the latest trends and techniques in green design -- to discerning Long Islanders who are looking for the most current approach to the design and building of their projects.

A win-win situation for all involved, this new team approach offers clients a key advantage by taking what is often a long, difficult and disjointed process and making it smooth, seamless and more cost- and time-effective.

“People will usually opt to continue working with someone they trust and feel comfortable with, someone who has already proven they are caring and competent,” says Pellicani. “The architect's LOFT team can deliver an ideal experience and result by working together and sharing the same code of ethics and standards in quality and customer service.”

(continued)

338 Glen Head Road
Glen Head, NY 11545

ph: [516] 609 3410
fx: [516] 609 3411

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

architectsloft.com

Introducing architect's LOFT...page 2

Contact:

Caroline Wilkes
516.623-3490
caroline@architectsloft.com

In addition to Pellicani's architectural services, architect's LOFT is a showcase for an array of specialized talent including draftspersons, interior designers, construction estimators and managers, and engineers. Among the services offered by architect's LOFT are residential and commercial design, plans for new construction or the remodeling of existing structures, design to increase value, cost/benefit analysis, site planning, permit expediting, zoning and building code review, construction bid proposal review and construction management.

As part of the firm's re-introduction, architect's LOFT has also launched a new website at www.architectsloft.com that, in addition to featuring its portfolio of residential and commercial projects across Long Island, has been designed and is maintained to serve as an up-to-the-minute design resource for consumers who are not only looking for qualified professionals but are shopping for ideas and the most current design information available. A free, quarterly e-newsletter -- design LOFT -- is offered by the firm to all website visitors who submit an email address.

architect's LOFT is located at 338 Glen Head Road, Glen Head, New York, and can be reached at 516.609-3410. Paul Pellicani, founder of architect's LOFT, is a licensed and registered, award-winning architect who has been creating innovative spaces for more than twenty years. In addition to his work as an architect, Paul is an educator and an artist. It is the intention of architect's LOFT to utilize the team's knowledge and expertise to bring the highest level of service to its clients, guiding them to innovative, creative, efficient spaces.

###

338 Glen Head Road
Glen Head, NY 11545

ph: [516] 609 3410
fx: [516] 609 3411